Trusted for decades

Heat Design is a Dublin-based company specialising in domestic heating solutions primarily within the Irish and UK markets. Our comprehensive product range encompasses everything from fireplaces to stoves, gas and electric. We are proud to present our flagship electric brand Iconic, a product line developed in collaboration with our partner factory. Launched in 2019, our brand entered the Irish market in 2020, swiftly expanding its presence to include markets in the UK, Canada, and the US.

Our offerings include two distinct categories: the traditional electric fire effect and the innovative Trance fires, leveraging cutting-edge video technology. In addition to our standard lineup of 12 sizes, we also cater to specific market demands by providing customised sizing options tailored to individual requirements.
